

I do not wish for the Indiana do not call list to be weakened or negated in any way. There are sufficient ways for businesses to contact people without calling them at home.